

Seminars and Short Courses

with the Lifelong Learning Centre

The University of Leeds is committed to opening up the campus to the local community. The Lifelong Learning Centre offers courses and events for people of all backgrounds and to make the University an accessible place for everyone.

Spring into Summer Our programme of Spring into Summer short courses and events runs throughout June and July each year.

This learning-for-pleasure programme is aimed at adults of any age who want to widen their interests, develop their creativity or increase their cultural knowledge. Previous programmes have included provision in areas including creative writing, art appreciation, literature, religion, language and culture.

Seminar Series

This ongoing series of one-off events aims to increase knowledge and awareness of current research in areas relevant to the Lifelong Learning Centre's portfolio.

Our seminars are FREE to attend and open to anyone with an interest in the various subject areas. Previous seminars have run in the areas of Child and Family Studies, Learning and Teaching, Islamic Studies and Business Management.

Arabic short courses

If you'd like to learn Arabic, our programme of learning-for-pleasure short courses is for you.

All courses take place at the University of Leeds, with previous courses having included Beginners through to Advanced Arabic.

Join our mailing lists

To join our mailing lists and receive details of our upcoming events and courses, please contact:

Spring into Summer and Seminar Series

Georgina Collins on 0113 343 6892 / g.collins@leeds.ac.uk

Arabic short courses

Greg Elliott on 0113 343 1770 / g.l.elliott@leeds.ac.uk

