

The Scottish Referendum: The End of Britain?

Join the Lifelong Learning Centre and colleagues from the School of Politics and International Studies at Leeds for a day of lively debate and discussion about the Scottish Referendum. We aim to give you a flavour of the debate that is taking place in Scotland and an opportunity to think about its implications for Britain and this region in particular.

- Our guest speaker Professor James Mitchell, Chair of Public Policy at the University of Edinburgh, will discuss the potential impact of a 'Yes' vote for the UK
- Dr David Seawright and Dr Stuart McAnulla will reflect on the changing relationship between Scotland and England
- Susan Dalgety and Lindsey Fraser will consider how the referendum campaign has progressed so far
- Dr Dan Coffey and Dr Iain Clacher will debate the economic case for and against independence

The day will conclude with what we expect to be a lively 'Question Time' session, chaired by Emeritus Professor of Politics David Bell and featuring a panel that will represent a wide range of opinion about independence.

Date: Saturday 14 June

Time: 11.00am - 3.30pm (TBC) Refreshments and a light lunch will be available

Venue: Centenary Gallery, Parkinson Building

For full details of how to register please visit the Spring into Summer webpage at <http://www.llc.leeds.ac.uk/sis>.